Norra Real Gymnasium is a public high school in central Stockholm with approximately 1,000 students ranging in age from 16–19 years. The school is the oldest upper-secondary school in Stockholm and one of the most competitive in terms of admission. Two of the school's alumni have gone on to win Nobel Prizes!

In Sweden, high school (gymnasium) takes three years and students normally choose a specific topic to study. Norra Real offers three topical tracks: Humanities, Natural Sciences, or Social Science.
